Lightning Bolt Stops Industries In Town Of Stuart

A terrific thunderstorm which passed over Stuart, the county seat of Patrick, a few days ago did such damage to the town power house that the entire community is without electric lights while industries there operated by electric power have been forced to close pending repairs which will take about two weeks. A bolt of lightning fell on some wires running from the power station with a crash which affected numerous people in that vicinity at the time. The shock was felt by a score or more people but none was badly injured. The fluid followed the wires and burned out the generator in the power plant totally destroying it at a cost of about $2,000. The power company has ordered a new generator but it will be some time before it can reach Stuart and be installed.

Co-Ops Plan To Put Plant In Reidsville

REIDSVILLE, N. C., May 19.—At a meeting of business men to confer with R. H. Haynes of the Co-Operative Marketing association, it was ascertained that none of the Reidsville tobacco warehouses is available for hand-to-hand for the pool, and a committee was named to secure funds to purchase a warehouse to be leased to the pool interests, at 6 per cent, on the valuation, rental plus upkeep and taxes, the lease to run for five years.

Saunders, R. M. Gillie, DeLancey Brooks, W. Thompson, and others tendered their services and the use of their cars in the campaign to secure new signers.

Gray's Wife Cut By Jealous Woman

Charlie Gray, recently sentenced to two years in the pen for bootlegging and who is in the local jail pending decision on an appeal, is again in the limelight. This time he was the cause of a fight between two colored women during which one of them was badly but not seriously slashed with a knife. The other is in jail. One of the women, Cora Gray, wife of Charlie, accused Lena Mitchell of being too intimate with her husband by reason of her frequent visits to the jail to see Gray. This charge led to a quarrel which resulted in a fight, of which the Gray woman got the worse end of the bargain, being cut on both arms and one side of the head. It was necessary to take stitches in all three wounds. The fight occurred last night about 8:30 o'clock on Patton street.

The trouble appears to have been the result of the Mitchell woman's frequent visits to the jail to see Charlie Gray. It seems that the Mitchell woman has been going to the jail fence and holding lengthy conversations with Gray and the wife apparently goes wild of it. Last night she heard that the negro was intending to make another one of her visits and she proceeded to go there herself and be convinced. She saw the Coleman woman talking with her husband as reported, but neither of them caught sight of her standing in a convenient spot in the courthouse. When the Mitchell negro came out, Cora Gray stopped her and began questioning her. The negro denied going there only at times when Gray requested her to do so, and said that she has never gone there without Gray sending for her. Cora Gray held a long stick in her hand at the time and when Lena finally departed, she followed. Officers at the police station heard the argument but thought nothing of it.

It was but a few minutes after the women departed that word came to the police station that a colored woman had been seriously cut during a fight on Patton street. Police Officer W. C. Tally and Detective J. C. Lewis answered the call but found that the disturbance was over. However, they found Lena Mitchell and Cora Gray at their respective homes. Lena was taken in custody and taken to jail. Cora Gray was found bleeding from three wounds, one on each arm and another in the head. It was necessary to call a physician who took stitches in the cuts.

The Mitchell negro did not deny doing the cutting and was apparently very cool after the affray. She said that she was forced to wield the knife in self defense. She claims that Cora Gray was trying to attack her with the large stick which she was carrying.

Youth Is Shot While With Girl

BRISTOL, May 19.—Frank Malcolm, aged 17 years, is in St. Luke's hospital in a critical condition with a bullet hole through his stomach, and Joe Camper, 17, also of Danville, 17, are in jail, both wounded in the arms, charged with shooting Malcolm.

Malcolm was walking home from church with Miss Dorothy Pope in the Fair Ground Addition Wednesday night about 9:30, according to his statement to officers, when about five young men jumped out from behind a hedge and McGhee, it is said, demanded of Malcolm: "What are you doing with my girl?"

Camper, a brother-in-law of Miss Pope, fired at Malcolm, it is alleged and then Malcolm drew a pistol which he was carrying in anticipation of trouble and fired four shots, two of which took effect. People who were within a short distance of the shooting, state that 10 or 12 shots were fired.

James Pope, father of Miss Dorothy Pope, who was walking with young Malcolm and his daughter at the time the shooting occurred, is said to have told the officers that he saw Camper draw a pistol and shoot Malcolm first, within two or three feet of the boy at the time he pulled the trigger.

After receiving the bullet, Malcolm ran a distance of about a half mile to the home of Officer Joe Weatherly, where he told of the shooting and asked that physicians and officers be called. He was taken to St. Luke's and was on the operating table for over an hour while his wound was being dressed.

Camper and McGhee were arrested by officers and although both were wounded, denied having had anything to do with the shooting of Malcolm. They admitted they were present at the time Malcolm was shot, but said they did not know who fired the shots in his direction. Camper is married and has two children.

According to neighbors the whole affair is said to be the result of jealousy. According to stories told by boy friends, Malcolm had been threatened by McGhee for going with the Pope girl. Besides Mr. Pope, the altercation is said to have been witnessed by a number of other people returning from church. The shooting took place directly under a street light.

Whittle Has No Idea Of Running Against Hooker

State Senator Marshall Booker has not yet made up his mind about becoming a candidate for Congress. He said this morning that he will still consider the matter and that he is expected to reach a decision during the coming week when he may possibly come to Danville. He evidenced some little interest in the announcement from Martinsville that Kennon C. Whittle would not be a candidate. Some of the political prophets who are watching the situation are anxious to know what effect the decision to hold a primary in the Fifth District in August will have on Mr. Booker, who is known to have been against the convention method of nomination.

Two of Westmoreland Davis' appointees are understood to be trying to bring out a candidate against Congressman Hooker, either from Henry or Halifax counties. The name of Kennon Whittle and that of Marshall Booker from Halifax. When Mr. Whittle was informed by telephone last night that his name was being mentioned in connection with the primary he made the following statement:

"We preferred not to," one of the passengers replied.

"Courtesy demands that you stand," the captain replied.

"That is a matter of opinion," said the American.

There was a crash and the broken fragments of a liquor glass dropped to the floor, leaving a wet stain of wine on the wolt behind the American. Instantly the smoking-room became a bazaar. Men rushed to restrain Von Falkenhayn and his companion.

In the morning the German captain is said to have apologized.

Upon the arrival of the Sedyditz in New York today Von Falkenhayn said he has come over to take a position with an automobile concern.

She is profiting incidentally by her trip to Danville in promoting the interests of her husband who is a candidate for the Senate and is distributing literature containing his platform.

Negro Stops Pair Of Runaway Horses

"Boss" Plummer, a colored attaché of Perry Hatcher's emporium, played the hero act this morning at about 9 o'clock when he stopped a pair of runaway horses which were gathering speed up Main street. The two horses were attached to the Southbound Elks. They were running wild and Plummer seeing the drivers was attached to the Southbound Elks. The horses started up Main street when unattended and Plummer seeing the drivers seized the reins. It was then no easy task to stop the horses from the curb in front of the Elks' club without any of the parked cars standing along the curb being damaged.

According to neighbors the whole affair is said to be the result of jealousy. According to stories told by boy friends, Malcolm had been threatened by McGhee for going with the Pope girl. Besides Mr. Pope, the altercation is said to have been witnessed by a number of other people returning from church. The shooting took place directly under a street light.

PRESBYTERIANS ABANDON IDEA
CHURCH MERGER

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 19.—Recommendation to drop the project of obtaining closer relations with other churches, as no plan feasible was apparent, was made in the majority report on the ad interim committee on closer relation of the Presbyterian and reformed churches submitted to the Southern Presbyterian assembly today.

The majority report, as submitted by Dr. A. M. Frazer, of Staunton, Va., constituted a special order before the assembly and included a resume of meetings the ad interim committee had held from time to time during a period of several years, designating a number of questions which had been considered in this connection.

The minority report was signed by one member, Dr. Thornton Whaling, of Louisville, Ky. It recommended that the assembly elect by ballot without nomination, seven men who would be charged with the duty of preparing a plan for future relations between the Presbyterian and reformed churches.

The committee would submit its plan to the 1922 assembly. J. A. McMillan, of McDonald, N. C., spoke in favor of the minority report. A resolution offered by the Rev. L. A. Hippiey, of Richmond, Va., proposed that the executive committee of foreign missions be directed to consider the opening of mission work among the Indians of central America. The resolution was referred to the standing committee.

A sum of $200,000 needed for the erection of the church of the Pilgrims at Washington, only $22,000 remains unpledged, according to the report of the special committee of the church, submitted by Dr. Russell Cecil, of Richmond, Virginia.

Misses Annie D. Carrington and Madelyn M. Moore, the well known and capable teachers in voice, have jointly trained the singers, and Misses Sybil Capps and Frances Read will be at the piano. Although there are many men in the voice department, these cantatas only call for women's voices. Next year it is hoped to combine and give operettas, Festival, and cantatas from the classes in this popular department.

Judge E. J. Harvey was elected president of the club to serve until June 30, 1923. Three vice presidents were elected in order as named: Dr. C. W. Psitchett, Ralph Linnell and D. B. Owens. Other officers elected were Crispin Dickenson, secretary; Wales R. Harrison, treasurer; Waverly Cousins, Lion tamer; E. N. Z. Ellis, tall twister.

The board of directors will be composed of the officers of the organization and the following men: E. B. Young, W. H. Hoffman, J. T. Townes and W. M. Brydon. The first two named will serve two years and the last two for one year.

By this time everybody present was calling every other person by their first names or some nickname; and those who had not been acquainted before were on terms of familiarity with each other. The way had been paved for future gatherings of even less informality, meetings of good-fellowship and understanding.

The question of meeting day was taken up and discussed at length. It was finally decided to meet next Wednesday at 1 p. m. and at that meeting decide on the regular meeting days and the time.

The meeting came to a close with the singing of a number of songs, the singing being opened marked by long pauses.

It was, however, not possible to get away without Leon Taylor, face-maker, getting a group picture of the gathering seated around a table, entirely denuded of comestibles.

It is probable that the charter night, the next big meeting of the organization, will be held the latter part of June or the first of July. At that meeting the charter will be regularly presented to the club by some international officer of the Lions.

The charter members of the Danville Lions Club follow:

Danville Lions Club Organized
Here Last Night

Lionsism has invaded Danville. The Danville Lions Club effected an organization here last night at the Burton Hotel with 25 charter members. Tom Marriott, Chicago, International organizer, and representatives from the Lynchburg, Va., Lions Club attended the meeting.

After the singing of America the meeting was called to order by W. E. Spessard to open the meeting with prayer.

The object of the meeting and the code of Lionsism was explained in detail by Jessie Benton, who also briefly sketched the work of the steering committee in the organization of the club. Tom Marriott, International organizer, went into the history of the International organization, sketched its inception and history, growth and development closing with details of his work in organizing clubs in Virginia.

The four Lynchburg Lions, W. M. Black, president of the Hill City club, E. F. Sheffey, T. J. Engrum and C. Patterson, told of the organization of the club in their city, some of the difficulties encountered and what had been accomplished.

In explaining the principles of Lionsism Tom Marriott said: "Lionsism implies courage, strength and activity. It is a real red-blooded, two-fisted organization. Some sociable individual has said 'get acquainted with your

SENIORS GIVE PLAY

High School Class Presents "A Strenuous Life" Creditably

A large audience at the Majestic theatre last night witnessed the play of a series of events in connection with the commencement of the Danville High School. It was the play given by the Senior Class, "A Strenuous Life," a farce comedy and a story of college days and the dilemma of a young student who is suddenly visited by his father, and is faced by a series of difficulties not the least of which is the impersonation of a professor by a freshman to give a good account of the young man's conduct.

The play was presented by a cast of fourteen students of the high school who, under the direction of Miss H. L. Logan presented in high creditable fashion the three act piece.

Considering that it was practically their first experience as dramatic persons and that they were faced by an eager and large audience on a real stage and in a real theatre the performance was surprisingly good and judging from its reception it went just as well as other shows. There were numerous audience situations to keep the interest high.

The play was in preparation for a long time and it was produced without the mishaps which usually are noticeable in entertainments. Frank Schinner of the Maj

Get More Evidence Against Valentino

Witnesses Found Who Will Testify Movie Star and Winifred Hudnut Occupied Room Together, Increasing Evidence of Bigamy Proceedings.

Frank M. Stoen, in charge of the Department of Justice Bureau here, said the investigation into the Valentino marriage was prompted by reports to his office that the actor had violated the Mann White Slave Act.

Investigation of the marriage of two other prominent motion picture actors who took this step after obtaining interlocutory decrees of divorce and without waiting for final once is under way, it was announced. These actors are Frank Mayo and Henry F. Wilthill, the prosecutor's statement said. Mayo married actress Juana, Mex., after an interlocutory decree of divorce was granted him here. The bride of the second marriage at Juana was Dagmar Gordow, daughter of Dr. Leopold Gordow, pianist.

DAVISBORO, Ga., May 20.—The mob which burned Charlie Atkins, 15-year-old negro at the state yesterday dispersed today, apparently satisfied that Atkins alone was responsible for the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Kitchen, mail carrier, who was shot to death on the roadside.

Before his death Atkins is said to have told the mob that John Henry Tarver, another negro was implicated in the crime, but after searching for Tarver for several hours, the quest was abandoned.

At sunset yesterday the body of Atkins hung suspended from a tree at the scene of Mrs. Kitchen's death. It was riddled with bullets and partly confessed.

Girl Asks Indiana's Governor To Let Condemned Father Hang

HARRISBURG, Ky., May 19.—Mabel Donovan, 17 years old, of Mercer county, has appealed to the Governor of Indiana and his pardon board, it became known today, not to pardon or reprise her father, William F. Donovan. Donovan was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of his wife, Mabel's mother at their home in Lynchburg some time ago.

It is understood that petitions for commutation of the death sentence will be heard by Governor McCray and the pardon board at Indianapolis tomorrow.

Mabel Donovan, in her letter to Governor McCray, said:

"I want to say to you and the board I do not want this sentence changed." She declared she wrote in "behalf of her mother" and declared that her father had slain her mother without cause. "The sentence given him is his term of office. He indicated, however, that it was more than possible that such will be the case."

BARNES DIES IN JAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Dr. George T. Harding, Jr., physician of Worthington, Ohio, and brother of President Harding, who is here attending the world conference of Seventh Day Adventists today predicted that the end of the world is close at hand.

Indications from meadowlands in the west today all point to the fact that we are living in the time predicted by the prophet, said Harding. "This will immediately precede the second coming of Christ, in which all men will truly believe. No one beneath the day nor the hour when the Son of Man cometh."

QUESTION: WHY DID MARY HAVE LAMB?

ANSWER: MOSQUITOES:

Have you a little mosquito in your home? Or twenty little mosquitoes—or fifty?

Civilization has done more for the mosquito than there are afforded in almost every back yard. Discarded tangles still-maraud barrels, tomato cans and wash tubs in a beautiful country homes, exclusive clubs and community centers for mice.

A doc or vessel, leave a bit of the insecticidal material I mentioned among other things, the fact that the mosquitoes in Continental U. S. are kept sheep in their huts as a preventive of malaria. He said. Sheep occupied the cabanas at periods, when the famished mosquitoes attacked their bites upon these animals after which they showed little tendency to bite man. He doesn't however suggest this as a manner of ridding industry of the malaria menace.

Perhaps it explains why Mary had little lamb.

He says that over certain should be careful that there are no stagnant pools of water about his home. While this effort should be made in the marshy districts of pools in which mosquitoes could be found.

If low places are drained and filled in, there is no chance for mosquitoes to breed. If draining is found impracticable, the surface of the water should be covered with crude oil. This will prevent the wimmers from developing into adult mosquitoes.

Aliens, They Lose Bostwick Fortune

Three Grandchildren of Oil Pioneer Fail to Qualify for $1,375,000 Trust.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Because he found the litigants are subjects of Great Britain and reside in England, Harry N. French, referee, recommended yesterday that $1,375,000, the principal of a trust fund established by Jabez A. Bostwick, Standard Oil pioneer, be diverted from three of his grandchildren who claimed it had baffled them and which now is said to have been used to aid rum runners.

The grandchildren are Mrs. Marion Carruthers de Pict, Miss Eleven Francis and Francis Francis, Jr., children of Mrs. Serge Vronoff, who was formerly Miss Fannie E. Bostwick.

The trust fund, consisting of 1,200 shares of Standard Oil stock, was created many years ago by Jabez A. Bostwick for his daughter, Fannie, during his lifetime. In his will he stipulated that the principal of the fund was to go to his children on her death, only in the event that they were then American citizens.

According to the referee, the will specifically provided that "no child not a citizen and resident of the United States shall participate in the distribution or the stock."

In the event of his daughter having no children of American citizenship and residence," at the time of her death, the will provided that the securities should be turned over to Wake Forest College, subject to a life interest by her husband should he still be here and be an American citizen and resident."

Miss Fannie E. Bostwick married four times, and despite her father's objections to foreigners each of her husbands was a subject of a foreign power.

The question of the disposition of the trust fund came before the Supreme Court and was referred to referee on the application of Mrs. de Pict for a construction of a marriage settlement in 1918, by which her mother assigned to her the Standard Oil Stock, and any other interest in the estate of Jabez A. Bostwick.

The three children of Mrs. Vronoff received from their grandmother Miss Fannie E. Bostwick bequests of more than $500,000 each. She left to her daughter Mrs. Vronoff, approximately $10,000,000, which now will go to the three children.

Fined $50 For Assault On Wife

Oliver Shelor was this morning fined $50 and costs and placed under a bond of $250 for his good behavior for 12 months, after being tried on a charge of assaulting his wife, Minnie Shelor. The alleged disturbance took place late last night. Mrs. Shelor claims that her husband came home and immediately raised a disturbance and attacked her, striking her several times and threatening her life. She could give no cause in his defense.

Shelor stated that he knew little of what took place as he was under the influence of whisky at the time. When the wife told of the attacks against her, Shelor was asked what caused the trouble between them. He replied his wife took advantage of his confinement at the hospital during an illness and was unloyal to him. Both the wife and her mother denied the charge of her unfaithfulness.

O. E. Cherry was fined $50 and costs for driving an automobile while under the influence of whisky. He was also assessed $4 for operating his machine without the proper license tag. An appeal was noted in the former case. Cherry contends that he was not drunk and had not taken any whisky on the day he was arrested just beyond Schoolfield.

RECOGNITION OF VALID TITLES IS VITAL QUESTION

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Recognition of valid titles acquired in accordance with existing law and the maintenance of the security of contracts and of adequate means for enforcing them is a fundamental question at this time in connection with the preservation of the essential bases of international intercourse. Secretary Hughes declared in an address tonight before the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"Nations may adopt what policies they please for the future conduct of their local affairs," the secretary of State added, "but if they seek international intercourse they must perform international obligations. When they have invited intercourse with other nations, have established their laws under which contracts have been made and property rights validly acquired, they put themselves outside the pale of international intercourse if they enter upon a policy of nonrecognition."

The address was delivered at the concluding session of the convention which was marked this afternoon by the departure by President Harding. During the day Julius H. Barnes, of Dubuque, Iowa, was elected president and other officers were elected.

Discussing the international conference as a method of negotiation, Mr. Hughes said it is largely successful in inverse proportion to its numbers and to extent that it represents the common purpose of a few who are interested in a particular problem and since really wish to find an appropriate method of solution."

THIS HOUSE WILL LAST LONG

The cost estimate of $5645 was given by the Curtis Service Bureau, Clinton, La., designers of this house. This figure, it must be understood, is not based on local conditions.

Recently we have been hearing a good deal about permanent building materials. It is fitting that a good deal of attention should be given to the kind of materials from which our homes are to be built, both from the construction standpoint and the standpoint of their appearance.

This five-room English house is well suited for permanent construction. Stone may be used, in any one of a variety of tints and textures, to harmonize with the surroundings and contrast pleasantly with the white exterior. Brick, limestone and other fire-resistant materials are also suitable.

This house is adaptable to a great many lots, first, because it is only 28 to 29 feet wide, and can be used on a small city lot, second, because of the enclosed little lattice porch around one corner, either the wider or the narrower side presents an attractive frontage and third, because of these two frontages, it will do full justice to a corner lot. The treatment of the roof is especially good as it gives the house a much broader appearance, which is desirable in small houses.

The dormer and the bay are carefully studied details. The front entrance leads to a hall so small as to be practically a vestibule. It contains the boxed stair.

Scoop's Column

DRAKES BRANCH, May 20.—(Grapevine Wireless.)—This morning one of our neighbors picked us up at Gitt's Switch and we rode over to town with him in his big car. The air was crisp and invigorating, slightly mellowed by the morning sun and sparkling with freshness like budding roses. We were enjoying the sweet-scent of it all and feeling quite cheerful.

"It's a large, fine day," we said, sinking down into the deep-cushioned seat beside him.

"Don't tell me it's a fine day," he growled, minding in a little profanity. "I've been working fifteen minutes getting this long-busted car started." He was fuming and cursing all the way into town and completely spoiled the anticipated delights of the ride. We thought what an unreasonable creature man is; restless and irritable when obstacles present themselves, rather than patient and persevering. Such is life!

"As a rule, man's a fool. When it's hot he wants it cool; when it's cool he wants it hot. Always wanting what is not."

And now we have the Lion's Club, making 47 lodges or social organizations in our midst. The men folks insist we'll stay home at all times.

THE FAILURE AT GENOA.

Under the most charitable construction the economic conference at Genoa can be regarded only in the light of a signal failure. It was natural for David Lloyd George to shed us rosy light on the net results of the meeting which lasted more than a month in order to buoy up and to give further encouragement to the Hague meeting which is to be held next month and which is to be the sequel of the Hague undertaking. Mr. George's consolation lies chiefly in the reflection that the conference did not actually break up in an international row. That actually was averted but the finale came in a sort of truce between France, England, Russia and Germany who have developed major differences. Viewing the record of the meeting one is compelled to view it with concern. The non-aggression pact, of course, is invaluable to the future peace of Europe, but it is outweighed by the new spirit of fear which is bound to pervade Europe with the signing of the alliance treaty between Germany and Russia and the fanning of hostile feelings between France and Great Britain.

As to the Hague meeting, there is little in it that can be seen now to create any great enthusiasm. The present breathing spell is not likely to produce any real set plan to lead Europe out of the trap into which it was led at Genoa. With the general retractor, "I am the stability of Italy is a jest born from the assurance of the United States in the role of an impartial arbiter and with large credits which alone can be afforded by this country there is further disappointment ahead. The Administration has lost no time in making known that it still stands for a policy of non-interference in Europe. The Geneva affair has shown that it was the policy of wisdom to remain outside and there seems to be little way of inducement to compel a change in sentiment. It may be safely said that the United States will not be represented at the Hague and that Europe will have to work out its own salvation as best it can.

MORE PETITIONS OF BANKRUPTCY FILED IN CAPITAL

RICHMOND, Va., May 19.—With the filing of two bankruptcy petitions today the number for this month reaches thirty-two. Several of the petitions are for small amounts, and in several cases excessive burly by people during the war period is responsible for the inability to pay. Local merchants generally are hardest hit. A number of the petitions come from the counties around Richmond.

London, May 20.—A woman's self-sacrifice has made possible an attempt to make the first airplane flight around the world.

The death of Sir Ross Smith on the eve of his projected round-the-world flight took away all the nerve of his brother, Sir Keith, who was to have been his companion. British air officials, fearing America might snatch the honor, called for volunteers.

Major W. T. Blake, a noted flier and newspaperman, was appealed to as the man best fitted to undertake the task.

"I have a family," said Blake. "Ask my wife. If she agrees, I'll go."

Mrs. Blake didn't hesitate. "Go!"

she said. "It is for the glory of Britain before the world."

So Major Blake is going. He will hop off May 24, the day honored throughout British dominions as Empire Day.

Funds Subscribed

Private funds have been subscribed for four planes he and Captain Norman MacMillan, who once flew to Morocco with Blake, will use on the round-the-world flight. A flying boat was planned at first but Blake decided he couldn't afford to wait until it could be built.

"To wait would play into the hands of the Yanks," he said. "I want to gain this honor for Britain."

Blake and MacMillan will leave London in a huge De Havilland 9 machine, a giant ship equipped with a 230 horsepower Siddeley-Puma engine. In it they hope to reach Calcutta, covering 7,600 miles in the first stage of the flight, via Paris, Rome, Athens, Crete, Alexandria, Bagdad, Basra, Kurach and Delhi.

In Calcutta a second machine, a Fairey 3, will be waiting, the parts having been sent there to be assembled. The second leg will be via Rangoon, Bangkok, Saigon, along the Chinese coast, to Japan, Yokohama, then to Petropavlovsk, and via the Aleutian Islands and the Alaskan coast to Vancouver.

WILL Cross United States

A third machine, another De Havilland 9, will be waiting for the plane across Canada, to Chicago, New York, and thence to New Foundland, where the fourth machine, an "F" 3 flying boat, will be picked up. The journey will be across Greenland to Iceland, the Faroe Islands and finally to Scotland, winding up at Aberdeen. The longest sea flight will be from the Faroe Islands to Scotland, about 350 miles.

JEFFORDS TELLS STORY TO JURY

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 19.—The case of Frank M. Jeffords, Ira Harrison and Glenn Trece, charged with the murder of J. C. Arnette, will go to a Richland county jury tomorrow.

The taking of testimony began this afternoon and arguments of attorneys opened. Four arguments were made this afternoon and tomorrow will bring the final three arguments and the judge's charge, after which the case will be given to the jury. The jury is composed of five farmers, two merchants, two clerks, one railroad man, one mill operative and one salesman. No time limit has been placed on the arguments either of the defense attorneys or the prosecuting officers.

The lone feature of today's session was the testimony of Frank M. Jeffords, the last of the three defendants to take the stand. Faced with the direct accusations of Harrison and Trece that he was the ring-leader in the alleged murder plot and its execution, Jeffords denied all knowledge of any plot against Arnette and denied that he had struck Arnette and denied that he knew the much discussed insurance policies were in force. He placed the burden of the blame for the killing on Harrison and denied that he had told officers when first arrested that they would have to prove the crime on him. He denied that he had admitted to Sheriff Hulse and Chief of Detectives Shorter that he had helped kill Mr. Arnette.

He admitted only that he had helped to place the body of Arnette in the slain man's automobile and that he had attempted to conceal the crime.

CANCELLED PAPER USED AS EVIDENCE

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 19.—The Associated Press—Cancelled drafts notes and memoranda of Armour and Company, Chicago packers went into the record on the trial of Governor Len Small today over the objections of the governor's counsel.

By this cancelled paper and the records the prosecution announced that it is attempting to show that transactions between the packers and the late Senator E. C. Curtis, Vernon Curtis and his "Green Park Bank" were so bad as the Curtis brothers were concerned, part of the alleged conspiracy to defraud the State by the alleged manipulation of interest earnings on public funds.

Twenty-three notes for $500, each, made by Armour and Company to E. C. Curtis and drawing interest rang from 6 1/4 to 8 1/2 per cent, were offered.

Baptists Propose
Great University
For the Southeast

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 19.—(Associated Press)—Proposals for establishing a great Baptist university for the southeast and founding an additional theological seminary were referred by the Southern Baptist convention to the committee to committee which will make recommendations to the next annual convention.

Home missions and Sunday school work with the reports of the boards in charge took up the greater part of the day and night sessions and it was announced that a conference of Baptist leaders will meet in Nashville June 20-21 to launch a campaign to complete the $75,000,000 fund by 1924 for enlarging Baptist activities.

The women's missionary unit threw its weight into the discussion of the fund and its members pledged themselves to contribute their

and the union had its last business meeting of this year and re-elected

Mrs. W. C. Jones, Birmingham,

president, and other officers as well as a hearing committee.

The question of a new theological seminary and a Baptist university was raised in a proposal made by trustees of Mercer University, a Paterist institution with the approval of the Baptist State convention of Georgia, that Mercer be made the nucleus for both institutions. If this were done, the trustees said, they would transfer all of Mercer's assets to the convention when the latter completes its $75,000,000 fund on condition that the convention raise $2,500,000.

The Georgia Baptists promised to subscribe $2,500,000 additional for the project. The Mason Chamber of Commerce offered to raise $500,000 if the convention would adopt upon Mercer

the same plan.

The arrangements have been thoroughly discussed and agreed to between President Harding, Secretary

Mellon and Congressman Slem普

The plan is for the President to send

Mr. Crupper's nomination as Customs

Collector for Virginia prior to the Senate on May 20th. The nomination will be confirmed in three or four days, it is expected, and the other details of bonds, etc., be arranged so that Mr. Crupper can take office June 1st.

It has been settled for over a year that Mr. Crupper should get this place but there has been no hurry about it for several reasons. First, Mr. Hamilton's term had not expired and because of his good service and all around good-fellowship there was no anxiety to oust him; second, Mr. Crupper said they were unwilling to give up the office to the project and he had no desire to establish such an office.
